The Army's Fresh Air Work

Recently married at Belleville by Staff-Captain Walton. (An account of the wedding was published in a previous issue.)

Off to the Fresh-Air Camp by Motor Boat.

THE Fresh-Air Camp at Clarkson's is now in full swing, and the happy youngsters are being taken out to enjoy the summer. By the time this issue is in the hands of our readers the second batch of children will have enjoyed their two weeks in the country, and a third lot will be on the way. The photos reproduced on this page show the methods of the camp.

Under the kindness of some Toronto gentlemen two motor launches were placed at our disposal a week or so ago, and in these children were taken out to Clarkson's across the calm waters of Lake Ontario. It has to be calm for such a trip, for owing to the fact that the children are taken to the Camp, the children have to be transferred to a small dinghy and rowed ashore.

The other photo shows how the children are conveyed from the Temple to the wharfside.

Regarding the need there is for such a work as this there is abundant evidence. The children who could be told of the hard struggles some poor mothers are having to bring up their families. One writes to us: "I am a mother of five living in a small room in a tenement. My husband is falling sick last winter she was forced to go out to work herself. What she could do she suffered for the family in food. Times are a little better now, but of course she has nothing on hand to provide for a summer outing for her children. I am glad the Army will take three of them to the Fresh-Air Camp."

Imagine yourself in her place now. What would you wish for? Would you be compelled to spend the torrid summer in one or two rooms in the close, stuffy atmosphere of a big city with masses of children? Would you long for a brief respite from such surroundings, and wouldn't you wish to let your little ones breathe the fresh air and enjoy a period of freedom and happiness in the green fields and by the lakeshore?

There are numbers of families in the predicament in Toronto, and we are anxious to provide them with free outings to the country. There is accommodation for the mothers and their children at the Camp, and whenever possible we let the mothers accompany their little ones. Of course, in the majority of cases we cannot do so, but we leave the home, or cannot spare them

Comrade Welcomed From U.S.A.
On Thursday night, at New Aberdeen, N.S., Captain Raymer daughter of Bro. and Sis. Hope well.

The meetings of Sunday were led by our own Officers. The Band and Soldiers assisted ably. On backslider returned.

Bro. Cornish, who has recently arrived from the U. S. A., spoke eloquently at the morning and evening meetings. He has also been a member of the Band.

time from her work. But some are able to make the necessary arrangements, and we gladly afford them the opportunity of getting a little rest and fresh-air, the only condition being that they shall assist in caring for the children at the Camp.

The cost of the work for this year is estimated to be about a thousand dollars. This includes only the keep of the children and their travelling expenses when they go by train. In addition to this there is the cost of extra beds and bedding, crockery etc., amounting to $300. And we must add to this year's total the cost of the house we have erected and the land it stands on, $9,300.

Up to the present we have received $855.21 towards the Fresh-Air Fund and $2,300.50 for the building. It will be seen, therefore, that quite a large amount is yet needed if we are to meet our liabilities this year.

This work is deserving of the support of the public, and we hope therefore that our friends will come generously to our help this year and enable us to bring a little cheer and brightness into the lives of these poor slum children. Remember that "He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord, and that which he hath given will He pay him again."

LT. COL. AND MRS. CHANDLER

With Earls Court Band, Visited Brampton.
Brampton has had its turn. The D. C.'s, accompanied by Earls Court Band, have had a tip-top week-end. From start to finish it was all that could be desired.

Captains Pollitt and Wales, with their Soldiers, welcomed everybody around the tea tables on Saturday evening. One could feel that the blessing of the people was the object of Colonel and Mrs. Chandler's visit.

After two splendidly attended open-air meetings a musical programme was rendered very creditably indeed. There was quite a large crowd in the Army Hall, and this was very encouraging.

On Sunday morning after two rousing open-air, Mrs. Chandlee took the reins of the Holiness Meeting. The Dandemen assisted nobly. The meeting was a feast of good things to our souls. In the meanwhile the Colonel was speaking in St. Paul's Metho-

The afternoon service was held in the pretty little park that Brainerd boasts of. Several hundred people took advantage of the beautiful weather, and many were the expressions of appreciation poured into our ears at the close. Both musically and otherwise, the service was of a decidedly Southern character.

One can only sneak peeks of the open-air meeting near the (A.T.) station at night when we had the privilege of speaking to hundreds of men and women who were waiting for the train. A second meeting in the heart of the town followed this. The last meeting of the day was held in the Army Hall, which was filled with a listening crowd.

All the Band lads testified while Colonel and Mrs. Chandler gave red-hot talks. Truly God was present with us. Over sixty dollars were given in the offering during the week-end.—Scribe.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO FAREWELL.

Our news columns this week contain a piece of information which we are sure will be read all over the Dominion with considerable regret—we refer to the announcement of the "farewell" from this country of Colonel and Mrs. Mapp. It is true that the Salvation Army forces in Canada and Newfoundland have the utmost confidence in the wisdom of The General concerning the placing of his leaders, and because of this the transference of Colonel and Mrs. Mapp from this country to some other command will be loyally accepted, knowing as we do that it is the welfare of The Army as a whole which has been considered. Nevertheless, during the four years they have been amongst us, the genuine worth has been for them a great admiration and esteem that feeling of regret, because the demands of the war make their departure from Canada a necessity, will be deep and widespread. The Colonel is one of nature's big men; we do not mean in physique, although the statement holds good in that respect, but in largeness of heart, in mental capacity, and in ability to successfully labour for the good of a cause. He is also a great spiritual force. His unquestioning sincerity and purity of life, his absolute devotion to the Kingdom of God and the Salvation Army, his inflexible carrying out of what he conceives to be his duty to his God and his fellows—lend additional power to his intrinsically powerful platform utterances.

Colonel and Mrs. Mapp, in their respective positions of Chief Secretary and Secretary for the Women's Social Work have rendered invaluable service to The Army in Canada, concerning which work we shall have more to say in later issues. In the meantime let all comrades pray that the farewell meetings and other meetings they may hold during their remaining days in this Territory may be richly blessed by Him, to the furtherance of Whom came they, have given their lives, and whose bidding they cheerfully march to a part of The Army's great battlefield.

A PLEA FOR MORE PRAYER.

We note from the British War Cry that Colonel Mrs. Barker presented The Salvation Army at the recent Keswick Convention. This is a gathering which all who love the name of the Lord have a very deep interest in, for Keswick's primary message is to God's people. Secondly and indirectly it is to the whole world, Keswick stands for the revival of practical holiness in the hearts of the people of God, and as a consequence the equipment for work among the unsaved. And is not this what The Salvation Army stands for, too? Do we not labour, in season and out of season, to rescue Christians from their apathy and train them to become devoted workers for the Master, full of enthusiasm for the salvation of souls?

It is a sad task and sadly, it is becoming harder, for there are many at the present day who "heap to themselves much, and having nothing, they are left empty." But instead of getting discouraged let us pray the more. A noted leader in the Christian world, in making a plea for more prayer, stated that the more we pray, the more we learn at the same time. First, that the Christian life is unwavering and until for doing the will of God, we must be "dead." Second, that owing to the world spirit being so strong, the Churches, frankly confess that they are having the greatest difficulty in keeping hold of their people. Third, that both these things are due to a lack of that spiritual life which is the power which our work must be in vain. Fourth, that nothing but the power of God's Holy Spirit in our hearts and lives can save the world, and fifth, that God long with all His heart to give His Spirit to the fervent prayer of the righteous man that avails much, and so to lift His Church to the heights there is for her in Christ Jesus. Here is something for us to meditate on, to pray over. May our hearts get so interested in this that we shall stir ourselves up mightily to pray that God may revive His work.

NEWSPAPERS AND LIBEL.

An American newspaper recently published an article denouncing Saturday night five-cent dance halls as immoral. A dance-hall owner brought an action for libel. The judge before whom the case was tried decided that a newspaper cannot be convicted of libel when it is engaged in a crusade for the betterment of the morals of a community.

The above facts were brought to the notice by a subscriber to this paper who reads the States. His reason for so doing was because he had read in a recent issue that certain German newspapers were bringing a libel action against the War Cry for writing against their business. He expresses the wish that the case will be settled as he calls our attention to the fact, he says, that if good sense prevails the verdict will surely be in our favour.

THE GENERAL.

Improving—but Slowly, and Much Tired by the Great Heat.

In some directions The General's health has shown marked improvement during the past week. He has been able to take more exercise, and on some days has spent several hours in the garden.

This improvement has brought a greater manifestation of interest in outside affairs, and rendered possible the discussion with the Chief of the Staff of some important matters connected with The Army's operations.

At the same time, and while the doctors are agreed as to the advance that has been made, several things—including especially the intense heat of the past few days—have made the progress distinctly slower than during the previous week, and it now appears somewhat doubtful whether it will be wise for him to appear at the London Anniversary celebrations at the Alexandra Palace on the 27th inst., as he had counted on doing.

In spite of the temporary setback The General's confidence as regards the future is wonderfully maintained, and he has by the last mail written to Commander Eva Booth in New York with regard to his proposed visit to the States and Canada early in the coming year.

Our friends everywhere will not fail to express to learn that one of the first recurring questions to The General recently was, "How soon am I going to get at my work again?" and we call upon all our readers to unite in earnestly asking God to provide him speedily with a practical solution of that great and important question.

Personalities.

News has been received from the Commissioner to the effect that he had returned from England on Saturday, Aug. 3rd, and will arrive in Toronto somewhere about the 12th. God bless him.

Colonel Jacobs has arrived safely in Toronto. He came across the Atlantic on the "Empress of Britain," which he visited on an accident on its return journey to England. The Colonel is returning to the Old Land almost immediately, and will be again on the "Empress" on Aug. 17th, on the "Meganitic" with a party of newcomers. It is hoped that by these recent journeys that the Colonel's health, which is still unsatisfactory, will be permanently improved.

Brigadier Burdett starts on his return voyage from England on Friday, August 2nd.

Major Cameron, at present furloughing in the British Isles, will return to Canada as co-conductor of a party of new settlers.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

FAREWELL OF COL. & MRS. MAPP.

WILL LEAVE CANADA EARLY IN OCTOBER.

Shortly before going to present the Chief Secretary, Colonel Mapp, received a cable message from the Chief of the Staff containing the information that The General wishes him to farewell from this Territory and to be available for another appointment at the beginning of October.

Seeing that Colonel and Mrs. Mapp are conducting the Newfoundland Congress, the Chief of the Staff wishes them to make their visit to that Colony the occasion of their farewell, so far as that portion of the territory is concerned.

Farewell meetings for Colonel and Mrs. Mapp are being arranged in other parts of the Canadian command, and many of Colonel and Mrs. Mapp's comrades and friends will thus have an opportunity of wishing them a personal good-bye.

It is probable that the farewell meeting in Toronto will take place in connection with the Fall Councils, and that it will be of a very special character.

Colonel and Mrs. Mapp have been in Canada just about four years, and through their many journeys, sterling qualities, and unstinted devotion have endeared themselves to a very large number of comrades and friends.

On the "Royal George" on Aug. 7, The Major sailed from Bristol, and will go right through to Winnipeg with the party.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Major Mapp has been unable to well for over a week. Consequently she was unable to assist the Major in his meetings at the Temple of Sunday.

Staff-Captain Grose, an old Canadian Officer, now of our Canadian staff, who has been in Toronto on rest, he has spent some time in England, and came to this country to visit his parents, but he has just learned with deep regret that his father has just passed away at Mount Albert, Ontario. The Staff-Captain has our heartfelt sympathies.

Staff-Captain Fraser is accompanying Warden Gilmore of the Central Prison, Winnipeg, on Friday. They are taking with them a party of prisoners who are to be employed in the construction of the new prison at the town, and the Staff-Captain is going down with a view of mak-arrangements to conduct meetings with the men during the time they are labouring there.

Staff-Captain Coombs is leaving with her parents in the evening.

We are sorry to learn that the son of Adjutant and Mrs. Carter of the Detention Home, Winnipeg, recently met with an accident whereby he fractured one of his legs above the knee. Doctors report favourably, and we hope that the lad, however, and his recovery is now only a matter of days. We sympathize with the Adjutant and Mrs. Carter.

Adjutant Peacock, who are for us to say, is somewhat better, but he has not been able to resume his journey to Regina. He is still receiving attention at Winnipeg. Pray for the Adjutant.

Adjutant and Mrs. Ash, of Milton I., are rejoicing over the arrival at their Quarters of a son, on July 23rd.

Adjutant and Mrs. Weir, of St. James, also have been made merry by the arrival at their Quarters of a daughter.

Adjutant Hopkins, who is in charge of Manchester, N.H., U.S.A. is a visitor to Toronto, and the wife of Brigadier and Mrs. Pot, before her marriage) were ones together for some years in the U.S.A.

Operation—Which Ensign Stone of Moose Jaw recently underwent was quite successful, and he is doing nicely.

Captain Case, of Trenton, is in health, and it is feared that he will have to go on rest, but a cure may be effected.

Captain Carter of Quebec and Miss Smith of the Correspondence Department at T.H.Q., accompanying to Vancouver party of emigrants arriving the "Empress of Ireland" this morning.

Captain Gorman, of Vancouver Detention Home, has been transferred to the Toronto Rescue Home.

Captain Townsend, who a fortnight ago was confined to rest on account of illness, has now recovered sufficiently to be able to again participate in the Corps work with husband.

Captain Berg, of Kenora, now holds a meeting in the hall in town every Sunday. She is the men's side and the women's alternately. Recently 12 papers sought salvation, among which were three girls.

Ensign McDonald has also received meetings in the Victoria Hall which was closed for a short time ago. One soul really got converted.

Det. Martin, of Oshawa, who is suffering from typhoid fever, is making satisfactory progress. Captain Andrews, late of Warkent, is also improving in health.

The Re-Opening of Ingersoll Citadel.

COLONEL MAPP, THE CHIEF SECRETARY, LEADS ON THE FORCES, ASSISTED BY LIEUT. COLONEL TURNER, THE PROPERTY SECRETARY, AND MAJOR MORRIS, THE DIVISIONAL COMMANDER, AND THE WOODSTOCK SILVER BAND.

By LIEUT. COLONEL TURNER.

WHO among the older Officers has not heard of Ingersoll? Of the many battles fought and victories won on this historic battlefield. For over a quarter of a century Ingersoll has played a very important part in the annals of Salvation Army warfare throughout the Dominion of Canada. During that time some very important history could be written relative to the Army and victories that have been associated with this Corps. The number of persons at the Penitent-Form for salvation and holiness, the great crowds of the penitents, and the many who have become Salvation Army Officers, and the large company already around the Throne all testify to the great good that has been accomplished since the Blood and Fire Flag was unfurled in this place.

When we recall the incessant warfare that has been kept up during the number of years we have been at work in this place, we are not surprised that the time arrived when it was felt necessary that in order to keep pace with our work we would have to rebuild our hall.

Early in the present year plans were set on foot for the re-modelling of this building, and with the aid of the Property Department, the Financial Collector, and the co-operation of the Ingersoll comrades this is now an accomplished fact.

The dates for the re-opening were set for Saturday, July 27th and 28th. The Chief Secretary and Mrs. Mapp were down to do the re-opening services. Unfortunately Mrs. Mapp was unable to be present owing to sickness. Those assisting the Colonel were Lieut-Colonel Turner, Major Morris, the Divisional Commander, Captain Wright Woodstock, Capt. Martin, Financial Collector, and the Woodstock Silver Band.

The opening services on Saturday evening took the form of a musical meeting provided by the Woodstock Band. A good crowd gathered together, and on all sides expressions of delight were in evidence at the splendid work that has been accomplished in connection with this building. The hall has been practically rebuilt. In the reconstruction an up-to-date heating plant has been installed, the lighting has been augmented by a splendid system of electric light, the old benches have given way to chairs; better accommodation has been made for the Juniors, and the Bands have not been forgotten, as provision has been made for the proper care of the instruments. A new entrance with concrete walks leading up to the same all to make the hall suitable for up-to-date requirements associated with Salvation Army warfare.

Sunday was a day of great spiritual power and blessing. The Chief Secretary met the united Bands of Woodstock and Ingersoll for a little heart-to-heart talk at 10:30 in the morning. This was followed by a talk to the children prior to the holiness meeting.

A splendid crowd turned out to listen to the Chief Secretary's address on the Sunday morning. Holiness was the theme. Great interest was manifested throughout, and at the conclusion of the service a number of men and women consecrated themselves to God for future service whatever it might mean to them.

The dedicatory service associated with the opening of the building was conducted in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. In connection with the programme that had been arranged His Worship Mayor Coleridge was to preside. Unfortunately the Mayor was called away in connection with his practice at the last moment, and as a consequence Mr. Sutherland, M.P., who was also present, was asked to take the place.

the Mayor's place. This he did with credit to himself and all concerned. Several prominent citizens spoke very highly of the work of the Salvation Army in Ingersoll, and were full of hope that the good work would continue with even greater success than had been met with in the past.

Thomas Seldon, Esq., moved a vote of thanks not only to the chairman for his presence, but also to the Chief Secretary for his excellent address, and to the rank and file in general for their co-operation in helping to bring about the renovation of the building. This was ably seconded by T. R. Mayberry, Esq., M.P.P.

The Sunday night meeting was a fitting climax to the day's proceedings. Although the weather was very oppressive, the Chief Secretary rose up to the occasion and delivered a very telling and convincing address on the importance of having everything squared up in this life so that one will be able to face the issues of their life over again without any regrets. Two souls came boldly out to the mercy-seat, while a great number were mightily wrought upon, and again without any regrets. The service of the Sunday night service, give themselves to God. Ingersoll has bright days ahead, and with the up-to-date facilities now offered ought to again come up to the front as an agency for good in leading men and women to Christ.

NOTES.

This was the first visit of the Chief Secretary to Ingersoll. He was much impressed with the great friendship of the people and with the Salvation Army and its work.

Envoy Lightowler and wife were among the first to greet the Colonel, they having laboured under the Colonel in far away India. In spite of our comrades' blindness, he is much alive as a lighting soldier.

The Woodstock Band did splendid service throughout the day, not only in playing, but praying, testifying, singing, etc. They stuck well to their posts.

Captain Wright of Woodstock accompanied the Band. As a former commanding Officer of Ingersoll his old comrades were naturally glad to see him.

Dominion Day at Prince Rupert. A lifeboat manned by members of the Band of Love, with Captain Tittle as the skipper, was drawn through the streets. As may be seen in the photo, this provided a good opportunity of advertising the coming meetings.

BIG OPEN-AIR CAMPAIGN.

Ministers of City Take Part—First of a Series.

The week-end meetings at Berlin were conducted by Captain and Mrs. Blaney. In the Holiness Meeting the Captain answered a question he was asked during his visitation, "What must I do to be sanctified?" Four raised their hands to signify they were seeking this blessing. In the afternoon the Captain gave an address on the 47th anniversary of the S. A. and at night he commenced a series of addresses on the Prodigal Son. A young man, not long out from Germany, came to the mercy-seat for the first time. The Captain has been anxious to have a great open-air campaign with the ministers of the city co-operating. His first efforts in this direction have been crowned with success. After the Sunday night meeting the Corps, headed by the Band, marched to the Market Square, where a crowd of over a thousand quickly assembled. The Rev. Mr. Crews (Methodist) and the Rev. Dr. Scott, of St. Andrew's Church, took part in this service, each giving a stirring Gospel address. A soloist from St. Andrew's also rendered very good service, which was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Adjutant Russell also spoke. This interesting service was brought to a close by the singing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee." It is hoped that these meetings will be continued during the summer months.

YOUTH AND AGE.

Kneel at Legion St. Penitent.

All of Sunday's meetings at Legion Street were in charge of Major Simco and Ensign Raven. The Holiness Meeting was a very heart-melting time, and the Major's address on the Temptations of Jesus touched all hearts. Two souls surrendered. In the afternoon the Major spoke on "What Jesus Said About Hell," and her statements, founded on Bible truths, emphatically denounced the doctrines now going the rounds of the public press and some pulpits. Ensign Raven gave a splendid address at night, and there were three surrenders. Youth and age met at the Penitent form. A man, sixty years of age, came boldly forward, and when two young men, one aged 18, from outside the Citadel, it was a good day.

HERE'S A GOOD SIGN.

Captain and Mrs. Barber have had a good beginning at Montreal II. Soldiers are turning out well. We now hold our Soldiers' Meetings in the evenings, but, as things go on well at the present, we shall soon have to go upstairs.

On Saturday night a lacklacker returned to God. We had an old comrade, Bandman Towns, from Woodstock, for the week-end. Bandman D. Putlick is out of the hospital, but is unable to play yet.

Our Band is doing well, and there are rumours of a Songster Brigade being started. Mrs. Murray.

BRIGADIER MOREHEN COMMISSIONS OVER 100 LOCALS

Ninety Soldiers on the March.

On Sunday Brigadier and Mrs. Morehen and P. H. Q. Staff were at St. John's. Mr. Nidd, Large crowds attended the meetings. In the morning, the Brigadier gave a very practical talk on temptation. In the afternoon he commissioned the Locals, Bandmen, and Songsters. Over one hundred commissions were given out. Ensign Hargrove evidently believes that in a multitude of counsellors there is wisdom, and with the local positions so well filled No. 1 should forge ahead. After the commissioning Staff Captain Caye read from the Scriptures and delivered the charge to the newly-commissioned Locals. At night three souls volunteered for salvation.

On the following Sunday Captain Tilly, who for the past year has been connected with the S. A. Day School here, conducted his farewell meeting. No. 1, Sister Nichol, Assistant Librarian in the Sunday School, also said farewell.

At night, after a rousing open-air service, the Soldiers bade adieu, ninety strong, and marched to the Citadel, where a most impressive service was held, and three men and women came to the Mercy-Seat. The Band and Songsters rendered valuable assistance at all the meetings. Since then four men and six women have come forward—Cadev Spencer.

FIFTEEN SURRENDERS ON THEIR FIRST SUNDAY

Adj. and Mrs. Howell Have a Good Start at Calgary.

The welcome meetings of Adjutant and Mrs. Howell to Calgary were attended with great blessing. On Friday the new Officers from the Soldiers and Friends of the S. A. gave a most welcome tea, and addresses were heard from each section of the Corps. The meeting was filled with good wishes and much enthusiasm.

On Saturday night a good crowd assembled and four souls got saved. In Sunday morning's Holiness Service, three souls came out; and at night seven more surrendered, making a good start. We believe we have won a profitable soul-saving day. The Bard rendered good service in all the meetings.—W. C. O.

Ensign and Mrs. Stitt conducted the meetings at Penitence Hall on a recent week-end. The practical addresses of both the Ensign and Mrs. Stitt were warmly appreciated by the Soldiers and friends, and the earnestness with which the message of salvation was delivered had good effect.

"A BLAZING INFIDEL"

Gives Testimony With Other Trophies.

In the absence of Captain Clark the Locals and Soldiers of Essex led the meetings last week-end. Everybody seemed interested and endeavoured to make the meetings as successful as possible. That on Sunday afternoon was especially enjoyable. Old comrades recalled memories of early-day lighting.

Mrs. Blackwood, who just recently adopted a little girl brought from England by the S. A. Emigration Department, gave a testimony of such a character that we knew the child has a good home.

A man who has been called a "blazing infidel" gave witness to the fact that he found out that it was not words and sermons that constituted a Christian life and character, but pure Love—a love that feels for and helps others.

A dear old saint looking at one of our Indian boys said, "It was the love of God helped her to love a different coloured race. The meeting continued so long that after a very brief address, Sergeant Burton was obliged to close.—R. V. E. L.

FATHER ENROLLED; HIS CHILD DEDICATED

Major and Mrs. McLean at Kenora.

Kenora was favoured last week by a visit from Major and Mrs. McLean. A very profitable week was spent.

On Saturday evening an open-air meeting was held and large crowds gathered to listen to the Major. Mrs. McLean's singing was much appreciated.

On Sunday afternoon the Major and Lieutenant White conducted an open-air service, while Mrs. McLean and Captain Berg visited the Jail. Three girls gave themselves to God.

The Sunday night service was a great success. An open-air was held prior to the inside meeting, and the interest of the people was aroused. A nice crowd gathered in the Hall and listened attentively to the singing of Mrs. McLean and her daughter Nellie. An interesting feature of the service was the enrollment of Bro. Kerr and the dedication of his children to God. The Major's address was to the hearts of the people. Two souls got saved during the week. One man gave up his pipe. The finances were splendid.—Interested.

Three souls got saved at Montreal IV. on Sunday last.—C. B. F.

THE INFLUENCE OF AN OPEN-AIR MEETING.

Brought Man to God, With Other Officers.

Captain E. Clayton, of D. H. M., was at London II. On Sunday talks were straight and to the point. In dealing alike with the saints and sinners. We are up with four souls at the Citadel. At our afternoon open-air service, which was very much enjoyed, was noticed listening very tenderly to the service. The man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night. After the service, the man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night. After the service, the man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night.

A large number of friends attended after service. The man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night. After the service, the man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night.

Last week the Band and Songsters played and sang in response to the prayers. The man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night. After the service, the man who was spoken to and invited to the meeting, and was found among the seekers at night.

Captain Hall is reading "Broken Chains," which has proved very helpful. We wish the Ensign and his family God speed.—W. C. O.

OBEEDIENCE IS BEST.

A STORY WHICH CONTAINS A SOLEMN WARNING TO THOSE WHOM GOD IS CALLING TO OFFICERSHIP.

HE call of God was a certainty with Gertrude, and she was not at all disinclined to become an Officer in the Salvation Army. Though she knew very little as to what an Officer's life really meant, yet she fully realized what a blessed work it really must be. However, she wished that it had come two or three years later. But the voice would not be quieted. "Do it now!" was the persistent reminder. Gertrude was old enough to choose the right path, and had had a definite work for her to do, but withal she disobeyed.

Oh, that this incident might be a warning to young women who know that they should apply for Officership NOW.

"You know, Captain, that it is my intention to go to College and finish my education and after I have graduated, if it is still intended for me to become an Officer, I will then be able to serve The Army so much better."

In reply to this the faithful Captain quoted the words of the Apostle Paul: "When I came to you I came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God. For I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified."

Gertrude was not easily convinced, although she had often heard the Captain say that when God calls us we must leave ourselves entirely in His hands and He will adjust all things well. The Officer continued to plead earnestly and pray for this young woman, but it seemed that Gertrude was bent upon having her own way, and when worldly friends advised that she had better secure her diploma first, as she would then have something to fall back upon in case that she should meet with failure as an Officer in the Army, the next step was soon taken, and she chose her own way.

She found her studies easy, and pursued them with great diligence, resulting in her passing every examination with flying colours. When she had concluded she said: "Now, I am ready to become an Officer in The Salvation Army." She made application, and was accepted, but her soul had lost its joy, and her work brought no results. When the call came first she felt that it was for foreign fields, and therefore after working at home for awhile she went abroad. But still her labours bore no fruit. Finally she resigned to take up a place which had been assured to her through her previous studies. However, so was often heard to say: "Oh, what a life of usefulness could have been mine if I had only obeyed the voice of God when He called me first to put my whole trust in Him."

Should these lines meet the eyes of any young persons who contemplate Officership, let me say in conclusion that God's ways are not our ways, and it pays best to be obedient to the call of God concerning us. We can be sure that we shall be guided rightly when we trust Him implicitly and over for the wisdom and knowledge we shall require for our work.

Can there be any greater wisdom than that WHICH WINNETH SOULS?

If you are in perplexity write the Candidate's Secretary.—Translated from the German by Staff-Captain Arnold.

THE TENTH TO GET SAVED.

Adjutant and Mrs. Crook, of Greenville, South Carolina, who have been flourishing in Ridge-town, conducted the meeting last Sunday evening. After a well-fought prayer meeting, one soul came to the mercy-seat, making the tenth since the arrival of our new Officers, Captain Treasurer and Lieut. Nutting.

Remarkable Meeting at an Industrial Home

When in Winnipeg recently Brigadier Butler visited the Kildonan Women's Industrial Home and held a meeting with the inmates, assisted by Major and Mrs. Findlay and Staff-Captain and Mrs. McAnnamond. There were nineteen women present at the meeting, and so powerfully God's Spirit took hold of them that while the Brigadier was speaking they all broke down and sobbed. Thinking it best not to invite them to the penitent form just at that moment, the Brigadier brought the meeting to a close. The women fled out of the room, but instead of despairing they stood aloof and weeping. Some of them clung around the necks of the Officers.

to be comforted. Seeing this the Brigadier was loath to depart without seeking to bring peace to their troubled consciences. The meeting was recommenced there, and before its final close fourteen had knelt at the Mercy-Seat and claimed pardon.

SEVENTEEN NEW WARRIORS.

On Sunday Captain Fowler and Lieut. Jones farewelled from Horning Neck. They have laboured there for about one year and eight months, and during that time have been a great source of help and blessing. Seventeen of their converts have become Soldiers.

The farewell meeting was well attended.—H. L. Tullin.

THE STORY OF ISABEL

WHICH SHOWS IN A STRIKING MANNER HOW THE WORKERS OF BRITAIN WILL BENEFIT UNDER THE NEW INSURANCE ACT.

ISABEL was a clerk earning twenty shillings a week, and when July 13, 1912, arrived she realized that the great compulsory net of the National Insurance Act drew her within its sweep, and that on the Monday she would need to become "an insured person." Did not everybody earning less than 160 pounds a year come under that new necessity? True there were a few exceptions, but Isabel was certainly not amongst these; she had no private income, she was not on the staff of a public body, she was not working at home on her own account. So there was no help for it and she turned reluctantly into a post office and demanded an insurance

ket. And every week now there will be the threepence less in your wages and the sixpenny stamp on your card."

So Isabel went home with her nineteen shillings and minipence and grumbled. She thought of all the things she could have done with that missing threepence, and never surely did a threepennybit go so far as this one went in her imagination. However, she was not without sense, and since there it was on her card she might as well get the best value for it if she should fall ill, and she knew that could only be done by joining an approved society. So in a fortnight's time she became a member of a flourishing women's club of a certain Ancient Order.

She was partly appointed in other ways, and called the Insurance Committee—had made arrangements with some of the medical men to look after the insured persons. They published a list of their medical men and invited insured persons to choose. And Isabel had marked a list and sent it up, and the doctor had agreed. So this was the doctor to whom she went now. And she expected that he would write out a prescription and that she would take this to a chemist—also one of a list issued by the same Insurance Committee—and show him her card. Then the chemist would make up the prescription and hand the bottle over, but hold out no hand for her coin. She would get the medicine as she got the medical advice free because of the stamps on her card.

But to her surprise the doctor looked grave, and said, "Why didn't you come to me before? I could have helped you, but now you are on the edge of a bad breakdown, and must have six months' rest."

Isabel took grave then, for she knew it meant losing her situation. But his words were so strong that she went home, dropped a line to her employer, and another to the secretary of her society enclosing the doctor's certificate, and went to bed. She had been in bed about twelve days when there came along a caller who turned out to be the sick visitor for her society and who after a chat handed over even shillings and sixpence to Isabel, saying, "That's your first week's sick pay beginning from the fourth day of your illness, and you'll get seven shillings and sixpence every week so long as you are ill up to twenty-six weeks."

Isabel got better after a time and went to stay in the country, and here the seven shillings and sixpence postal orders followed her. At the end of six months she came up to see her doctor, and he was encouraging but urged her to rest another month or six weeks. So she took his certificate round to the secretary of her society and said, "But now I've had my twenty-six weeks I suppose there'll be no more postal orders?" "Oh yes," said the secretary, "now you'll come on to the disability pay—five shillings a week so long as you are incapacitated from work. If you were incapacitated all the rest of your life you would get it always. But fortunately for you and for us, you will only need it a few weeks."

So back she went to the country for two months more, and there the five shillings weekly postal orders duly followed her. When restored to health, she came back to look for work. Once more she called on the secretary of her society and asked with some anxiety, "What about all the blank spaces on my cards for this last eight months that I've been ill? I've got to buy stamps and fill them up." "No, no," said the secretary cheerfully, "we shall just write 'ill' against you for all those blanks, and it will be exactly the same as if they were filled with stamps. There are no contributions to be paid in illness."

So, relieved, Isabel set about the search for work. She did not succeed quite at once, and four weeks elapsed before she found a new situation. Then she Corps, coming to this country five years ago. She was married to the Secretary of the League of Mercy since its inception. She was three or four years ago. One of her friends was ever ready to visit her, and to do any work possibly could to help human beings, and to forward the interests of the Kingdom of Christ. Her death was a blow to her many friends, the patients in the hospital, the women in the jail, and as to her family. She had not got through nursing her husband when the news came that she herself was sick, and in a short time she passed away.

The funeral was conducted by Adjutant and Mrs. Kendall, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Jones. Many tributes were paid to her godly life, and many tokens of love were placed upon the coffin. The Band led the procession to the cemetery, and a big crowd followed.

At night in the Memorial Service a number of songs were sung, and a beautiful service was held. Her husband and five children—W. C. V.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Chief of the Staff is announced to preside at the massed Band festival which is to include the celebration of the thirty-seventh Anniversary of the Alexandra Palace, London, Eng.

Commissioner Howard has been appointed to conduct the Swedish Summer Congress. We are happy to learn that Commissioner Mrs. Good-Hellberg, whose recent breakdown in Denmark caused widespread regret, is considerably better in health. She is now able to attend to business, but it will be some time before the Commissioner will be able to undertake any public engagements.

Commissioner Edie has been appointed a Marriage Officer for each of the four Provinces of the South African Union—namely, Cape Colony, the Transvaal, Orange Free State, and Natal. It will be remembered that the Commissioner was recently appointed Marriage Officer for South Africa, which does not belong to the Union.

Accompanied by the Staff Band, Commissioner Edie conducted a meeting in the Grosvenor Hotel, London, at which the Governor of the Stockholm Province, the Chief Director of Stockholm Central Prison, and several clergymen.

On the voyage out, Commissioner and Mrs. Richards called at Colombo and took tea with Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Macdonald. The Colonel, who is now in charge of The Army's work in Ceylon, served under the Commissioner in the capacity of A.D.C. in the London Central Division over twenty years ago.

HOLLAND'S 20th FIELD DAY. The Twentieth Field Day of The Salvation Army in the Netherlands was held in the magnificent woods belonging to the splendid mansion, Nimmedor. Situated in the centre of the country as it is, thousands of soldiers from every part of the Territory were able to meet there for the happy celebration.

The presence of the Assistant Foreign Secretary, Commissioner Whitmore was warmly appreciated by the Dutch Salvationists.

Heartfelt grief and sympathy stole over the huge crowd when the Assistant Foreign Secretary spoke of the dear General's health. He afterwards declared that the General's Message to his Dutch Officers and Soldiers—words which were greeted with enthusiastic volleys.

In the afternoon a massed musical Festival took place. Marches and selections and songs by combined Bands and Brigades were given, with alternating drills by the children.

A special drill was executed by fishermen and girls from Scheveningen, that famous sea-resort near The Hague. These boys and girls were dressed in their peculiar costumes, and after having said goodbye to their "wives" (the girls) they went a-dashing, after which coming back with a shipload of fresh herring.

In the closing meeting two eloquent Staff Officers, Brigadier and Mrs. de Groot, farewelled to Dutch East Indies, to the leadership of which Territory the Brigadier is appointed. Born and saved in Holland, they have fought for many years in this Territory. Mrs. de Groot, called upon to speak, expressed her heartfelt gratitude to God for having given her the honour of becoming a missionary to Java. "His grace," she said, "will be sufficient for me." Next, in touching words, the Brigadier spoke of leaving his aged mother and all his comrades and friends. He requested their prayers, "When wrestling with heartburning," he said, "your prayers will powerfully encourage me."

Then under the dear Army Flag, Commissioner Whitmore dedicated the Brigadier and Mrs. de Groot, with their two sons and daughters, to God for the East Indies. It was a touching scene, and many were moved to tears.

SWEDEN.

In connection with the official opening of Sweden's Inebriates' Home, which is situated on Kyrön, an island in Lake Mälar, near Stockholm, a steamer was chartered for the conveyance of 200 Officers and guests from the mainland (says Lieut. Colonel Larsson) Among those present at the opening ceremony were the Governor of the Stockholm Province, the Chief Director of Stockholm Central Prison, and several clergymen.

At the dedication, Commissioner Ogrim gave some details of the work which is already in progress on the island, and the Provincial Governor not only expressed his sympathy for the work, but also promised to do all in his power to help the cause.

A wonderful conversion at Kåre was that of a man who had contemplated committing a crime that night and then fleeing. Some of his accomplices who carried out their plan were discovered by the police and arrested.

During his five days' stay in Dalny, the Colonel conducted seven meetings, and in a club, recently opened by business men, gave a two-hour address on "The General and The Army." There were 200 members present. A number of Soldiers were enrolled, among whom was the son of a Swedish General.

JAPAN.

Lieut. Colonel Yamamuro has lately concluded an interesting campaign in the West of Japan. After a night and a day in the train from Tokio the Colonel arrived at Kanazawa, a stronghold of Buddhism, but where he held three well-attended meetings, swore-in a number of Soldiers, and made six captives. At Kyoto the Colonel dedicated two children to God and The Army, and again there were six souls for Salvation. Among the four converts at the next town visited—Akashi—was a woman whose husband was about to divorce her because of her wicked life. Husband and wife sought God together.

One young man, on purpose to attend these gatherings, travelled 400 miles, and finally offered to become a Soldier. He was converted a few days ago, and is running a Sunday-school in his district in Manchuria, where no other Christian work is in operation. The wife of a high official came over 350 miles to be present. Some time ago she gave a copy of the "Common People's Gospel" (the Gospel-story summarized and translated into the language of the poor people by the Colonel) to a burglar who broke into her house while her husband was away. The burglar was afterwards arrested, convicted and imprisoned. One of our prisoners, a man who had been converted through reading the Gospel.

On the return boat journey the usual entertainment was abandoned, and in place of it the Colonel was asked to give an address to the passengers.

BARBADOS.

Barbadoes or "Little England," as it is affectionately called by some, is 204 square miles in extent, and has a population of 180,000. The native inhabitants are apparently somewhat better educated than those in a few other islands.

Notwithstanding the numerous churches and missions, there is still a very considerable population who do not attend any place of worship. It is principally this class our efforts are directed.

A recent Government Census gave the number of those registering The Salvation Army as their religion as 705, but this does not represent the extent of our influence; that 705 will probably be influencing every week by means of open-air services something like 7,500.

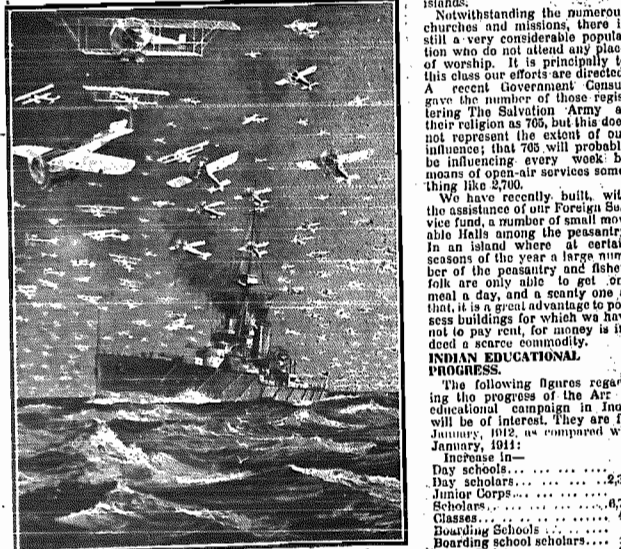

We have recently built, with the assistance of our Foreign Service fund, a number of small movable halls among the peasantry. In an island where at certain seasons of the year a large number of the peasantry and fishermen are only able to get one meal a day, and a scanty one at that, it is a great advantage to possess buildings for which no rent is paid, for money is indeed a scarce commodity.

INDIAN EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS.

The following figures regarding the progress of the Army educational campaign in India will be of interest. They are for January, 1912, as compared with January, 1911:

Three Thousand to One.

The cost of the average hydroplane is $5,000, and that of a monoplane $2,500. Thus one thousandth of the former and two thousandths of the latter could be built at the same cost of one super "bread-n-butter" about ten million dollars.

The Rt. Hon. David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the present British Ministry and author of the National Insurance Act. . . . .

And there was handed to her a card with much printing on it, and in the centre thirteen blank spaces the size of a postage stamp. And this card she duly passed on to her employer when Monday came.

Soon there arrived pay day, the first after the Act came into force. Isabel was paid weekly, and there on this pay day was waiting an unfamiliar packet. Instead of the usual twenty shillings, nineteen shillings and minipence was her allotted portion. And then her employer—for he was small, and the master was his own cashier—showed her her card, and oh it a sixpenny stamp, not an ordinary postage stamp, but a special one which Isabel had never seen before. He held her master's "Threepence of that stamp comes from your wages, and that is why you get seven shillings and minipence instead of twenty shillings, and thence comes from my pocket."

And every week now there will be the threepence less in your wages and the sixpenny stamp on your card."

Salvation Songs.

HOLINESS.

Tunes.—The Cross Now Covers, 412; Song-Book, 403.

1 I stand all bewildered with wonder,
And gaze on the ocean of love,
And over its waves to my spirit
Comes peace like a heavenly dove.

Chorus:

The cross now covers my sin,
I struggled and wrestled to win it,
The blessing that setteth me free;
But when I had ceased from my struggling,
His peace Jesus gave unto me.
He laid His hand on me and healed me,
And bade me be every whit whole;
I touched the hem of His garment,
And glory came thrilling my soul.

2 Tune.—Cleansing for Me.
Lord, for a mighty revival we plead,
Lord, give us souls!

Thy saving power in this meeting we need;
Lord, give us souls!

Quicken our hearts by the Holy Ghost's power,
Pour out Thy Spirit, a great,

"Christ for me!"
Where'er I speak, or sing, or pray,
"Christ for me!"

Him first and last; Him all day long,
My hope, my solace, and my song;
I'll send the ringing cry along,
"Christ for me!"

Now, who can sing my song and say,
"Christ for me!"
My life and truth, my light and way,
"Christ for me!"

Then here's my heart, and here's my hand,
We'll form a brave salvation band,
And shout aloud throughout the land,
"Christ for me!"

Tune.—Oh, the Lamb, 55; Song-Book, 323.

4 How sweet the name of Jesus sounds
In a believer's ear;
It soothes his sorrows, heals his wounds,
And drives away his fear.
It makes the wounded spirit whole,
And calms the troubled breast;
"Thy manna to the hungry soul,
And to the weary rest."

Tunes.—For You I Am Preparing,
227; Song-Book No. 66.

6 We have a message,
A message from Jesus,
And time is now hastening,
His moments are few;

He's seeking poor sinners,
Make haste to receive His love,
The Master is come,
And He calleth for you.

Chorus:

For You He is calling.

We have a message,
A message from Jesus,

And time is now hastening,
To the poor weary heart:

The love of my Saviour,
There's nothing so precious,
The friendship of Jesus
Will never depart.
